"WILD ORGIES OF HOLLYWOOD ARE ONLY DREAMS"

Film Folks Leading Clean Lives, Writers State.

BY FRANK WOODS
President of Screen Writers' Guild of the Authors' League of America

THOMPSON BUCHANAN
Chairman of the Writers' Club

When William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, was found murdered by an unknown assassin, nobody could have realized that the mystery would resolve itself into a newspaper trial of the film industry and of Hollywood, the chief center of cinema production. Such, however, seems to have been the case. This quiet and beautiful section of Los Angeles has been treated to a drenching of slander unexampled in American journalism, while film people themselves have been pictured largely as drug addicts, drunkards, profligates, and degenerates.

If a half, or a quarter, or even a tenth of this "slandering" is founded on fact, then the people engaged in making motion pictures, particularly the stars, are of the wrong class and ought to be eliminated. If, on the other hand, the charges are untrue, a fearful injustice has been done to an innocent community and to 30,000 hard working, decent living, normal minded men and women engaged in a legitimate occupation.

Slander Travels Fast.
The injustice is all the greater because slander travels with such speed that truth may never overtake it.

What is the truth?
The film industry numbers among its thousands of actors, directors, writers, artists, photographers, mechanics, and managers, a small percentage of undesirable people, the same as in any other art, profession, class, business, or occupation. On the whole the percentage of undesirables in pictures is somewhat less, for reasons to be stated, than is found in other classified occupations. Certainly the proportion is no greater, and must be considered amazingly small when the nature and the rapid and unorganized growth of the industry are impartially considered.

Naturally one might suppose that a new industry, recruited indiscriminately, would attract to itself the least stable types of people. Add to this the fact that the average pay is high, too high, perhaps, in exceptional cases, but not nearly so high in the main, as has been popularly supposed, considering that employment is precarious.

Restless People, High Pay.
With these two conditions—a restless, temperamental, and unstable class of people to deal with, and high, even extravagant rates of pay, we might be perfectly justified in believing many, if not all, of the wild tales that have been told about the industry.

On the contrary, the result has been largely the reverse, and for this there are three perfect reasons. First, there has never been absent during the last eight years earnest, effective welfare work conducted by people within the profession, while in the management of the larger companies there has been stringent control of

ASK RECEIVERSHIP FOR HOOL REALTY FOR $1,325 JUDGMENT

Receivership proceedings were commenced in the Circuit court yesterday afternoon against the Hool Realty company. The suit, asking the appointment of a receiver, was filed by the Multigraph Plate company, which alleges that a judgment for $1,325 obtained in the Municipal court has not yet been satisfied.

Further allegations contained in the bill are that the bill are that the stockholders have not paid for their stock in full and that only a portion of the capital stock of $250,000 has been paid in. The officers named in the bill, who are also directors, are James A. Hool, president; T. R. Woulfe, vice president; M. A. Barabek, secretary, and Roy S. Seiber, treasurer.

"Of the bills involved in the judgment only $200 worth are disputed," Mr. Hool said last night. "Had not the notice of dissolution been served after business hours the judgment would have been straightened out tonight. As it stands I will appear in court tomorrow morning with a certified check for the amount alleged to be due."

studio conditions, growing stronger and stronger as time goes on.

Second, work in pictures is exacting and mentally and physically exhausting—so much so that a great majority of the active workers have no time, strength, nor inclination for the revelries and orgies which have been depicted as the rule rather than the exception.

Must Care for Themselves.
Third, speaking now of the players, the camera is relentless, and no actor or actress, especially the younger ones, whose faces are literally their fortunes, can remain long in the spotlight and at the same time give way to any sort of self-indulgence. This last point alone is sufficient to prove the general fallacy of the sweeping charges and impressions that have been spread broadcast in certain newspapers. Make no mistake about this: habitual depravity on the part of any player brings its own sure and swift punishment.

The results of excesses cannot escape the camera, and this fact alone has kept many a pretty girl or handsome boy from performing professional bar-kari. Those who have been weak enough to fall have fallen and disappeared. If there are others who are weak, they also will fall and disappear. Such is the natural law, and the players know it. The vast majority of them act upon it, although now and then there is an exception.

The proof that film folk are mainly as I have represented them is found in the true picture of Hollywood as it really exists. Hollywood, which houses the greater proportion of people engaged in picture work, is a live, normal business section of Los Angeles. It is not a "camp" nor a "colony" nor a segregated district. It is a hustling community, growing rapidly and justly celebrated for its civic activities, in which picture people participate along with their neighbors.

The Hollywood Woman's club, the Writers' club, Masonic temple, the Chamber of Commerce, the Bowl, a great outdoor auditorium, numerous banks, churches, schools, a university, business blocks, library, etc., all attest to its live but normal and wholesome character. The only small things about Hollywood, and these are the most significant of all, are the night resorts and the police force.

Of "night life" in Hollywood there is absolutely none. One bowling alley in a basement, one billiard hall on a second floor, five motion picture theaters, and one stadium where boxing bouts are conducted once a week by the American Legion are the sole amusements. There are no cabarets, café dance floors, drinking resorts, houses of ill repute—nothing at all of this character.

Police Captain's View.
As for the police, to which I have referred, let Police Captain George K. Home speak for himself.

"Now, as to Hollywood being 'drug crazed' and full of 'wild night life' in this twenty-three miles which my department covers there is a total police personnel of less than seventy men. Five of these patrol the San Fernando valley district, twelve miles from Hollywood. Ten more are assigned to traffic duty on busy corners and before schools. The remaining fifty-odd cover the whole district, with not even a police or fire alarm system to aid them, relying upon the upright character of the residents to keep us informed of crimes and fires by telephone."

"For comparison's sake let us refer to the Wilshire district of Los Angeles, a district only twelve miles square, solely a residence district, and without a business section. It is patrolled now by 113 men. If Hollywood had the same proportion of police to the square mile as has the Wilshire district we would have a force of 216 men here instead of an actual Hollywood force of fifty-five men."

Film Town Free of Crime.
Why has Hollywood such a comparatively small force of police? Because Hollywood, being a high class residence district, peopled by a home loving and law abiding population, is practically free of all crimes of violence.

"The best index to the moral character of a community is its police records. Here is the complete and final refutation to the wild stories the eastern newspapers have published. Our police records, covering this district with its 70,000 people, including the people employed in its twenty-two motion picture studios, show that:

"In the last five months there has not been an arrest for prostitution nor for peddling narcotics."

"In the last five months the Hollywood police have received no complaints from any resident of any wild party being held within the precincts of Hollywood, and have not been called upon to raid a single home or apartment."

"Arrests for felonies average less than three a week, and half of these arrests are made at the request of outside communities."

"Holdups and crimes of violence are practically unknown in Hollywood."

"Of the persons arrested by our officers for offenses other than violations of the traffic ordinance, for many months past not a single one has been actually employed in the motion picture business."

"Practically every arrest in Hollywood for felony is a 'Roster' who has pens to drift into the district, attracted by its evident prosperity."

"In the face of these facts, it seems nothing short of criminal that unprincipled newspaper space writers should be allowed to send out their lurid and ridiculous stories."

After reading this clean bill of health, one may well wonder where all these slander stories have come from. How can there be men and women writers anywhere on earth base enough to invent any or all of the lurid stories that have been printed so generally about Hollywood and the film people?

This is a proper question to ask and one, that deserves a frank and complete reply.

The Arbuckle Case.

Let us go back to the Arbuckle case. The unfortunate affair in which Arbuckle became involved took place in San Francisco. Everybody has heard of the intense jealousy that exists between the two great cities of the Pacific coast—San Francisco and Los Angeles. No doubt this had much to do with the virulence of the carefully fostered newspaper prejudices in San Francisco against the defendant and perhaps also, his strange silence under advice of counsel led many people to believe in his guilt, but most significant was the fact that the district attorney had political aspirations and he saw a chance of catering to the reform element of his city by painting Arbuckle not so much a murderer as a debauchee. He used the newspapers to try this side of the issue and found the sensational press of the entire country more than willing to help.

Arbuckle's mode of living, which was too often the same as that of thousands of young men of other stations in life who, like him, have no money, was never less indefensible, and somehow, some way, the impression was conveyed that he was a fair example of film folks' depravity."

When the Taylor murder broke, not in Hollywood but in Los Angeles proper, the press was ripe for sensational developments. The Los Angeles newspaper offices were flooded with urgent queries from newspapers in all the large cities. The murder at once took the form of a mystery and it is still at this writing, to all appearances, unsolvable.

With no evidence pointing to any person as the murderer the detectives and the press invented theories, some of them remotely plausible and others wildly impossible. These theories were often bolstered up with imaginary suppositions and implications of guilty knowledge on the part of persons really eager to help solve the mystery but unable to furnish any valuable facts.

Taylor, himself, who had been a man of exemplary habits, fine deportment, and high ideals, turned out to have had an adventurous past. He had taken a stage name, like many others of the theatrical profession, and this was made much of. Days passed and still there was no evidence discovered bearing on the cause of the murder.

Conspiracy of Silence.

It was then that the theory was invented that there was a conspiracy of silence, although Los Angeles publishers claim that this charge came from newspapers in other cities. Its publication here caused intense surprise and indignation. "The Writers' club of which Taylor was a member, offered $1,000 reward for evidence leading to the apprehension of the murderer and the Los Angeles offered $2,500 more. To complicate the entire situation, there were two detective forces, that of the city and the sheriff's office, working on diametrically opposite lines, each eager to maintain its own hypothesis.

It came to be a dull day with those who had been at all familiar with the dead man when, each one was not questioned by at least one or two detectives. The press called this "grilling," and every person examined was a potential criminal. Finally the district attorney took charge of the investigation, examined everybody again, and announced that not one bit of evidence had been discovered implicating anybody as connected with the crime or even of having guilty knowledge of it.

So much for the Taylor murder. The deliberate besmirching of Hollywood and of the film people as a class followed as a so-called sidelight on the mystery."

There were two reporters here from Chicago, Edward Doherty and Wallace Smiley. They were here to report the unsavory Burch and Ochsenschlain trials, and when these seemed to be flattening out they seized on the Taylor mystery as an excuse for digging up and relishing all the dead scandals of the picture people that had accumulated in the last ten years. There were only a bare half dozen of them, but they were embellished, added to, and enlarged until they read like juicy stuff.

Added to these were alleged interviews with Jap butlers and the like, pure fiction, and other out and out inventions, all of which, sent out in a series of special stories and published in widely scattered syndicated papers constituted an injurious indictment that might easily impose upon editors and the public.

To refute the slanders, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and other civic authorities, not connected in any way with the film industry have joined in circulating a strong statement denouncing the lies and bearing witness to the decency and worthy character of film people as a class.

DEPENDENT LABORER A SUICIDE.
Pope Darrell, 32 years old, 3824 South Leavitt street, dependent upon a recent illness, climbed to the roof of his home and jumped off. He died from the injuries.

POETRY OF HAM

Poets have ever sung the tantalizing aroma and delectable flavor of ham.

Pope has made the fame of "Darby's Ham Pie" live through the centuries.

Scott made Lady Margaret's marriage feast memorable because of the "priestly ham."

And CHILDS turns the familiar "ham and eggs" into a gastronomic poem.

Tender, sweet ham and fresh from the farm eggs—a personally appealing dish.

KEARNEY SWEARS STRANGER KILLED GEORG AND GAST

Slayer Bushy Haired, He Says; Walsh Is Bald.

Thomas Kearney, former president of the Chicago Building Trades council, testifying at the trial of Thomas Walsh, business agent of the sheet metal workers' union, who is charged with the murder of Adolph George Jr., yesterday declared his brother labor official had nothing to do with the shooting.

He told how he had visited the saloon of George, whom he had known for fifteen years, how a fight had started, and how "a tall, heavy set man with dark, bushy hair," whom he characterized as a "bum," had shot and killed the proprietor and a waiter, George Gast. Walsh, the defendant, is heavy set, but he is short and bald.

Points of Story Contradicted.
Several witnesses who followed the labor leader on the stand contradicted many of the points of his story, however. Kearney said he struggled with the man who shot Gast and George, but the man had shoved him away. Several of the witnesses said there was no struggle.

Kearney testified that during the struggle his hat, a stiff one, and the "mysterious stranger's" hat, a soft one, had been knocked off, and on his way out of the saloon he had picked up the stranger's hat and worn it away. William Kramer, 1737 Columbia avenue, testified he had seen Kearney walking away from the saloon wearing a stiff hat.

Differ on Another Angle.
Kearney also testified that Gast, the waiter, was behind the bar when he was shot, while John Weber, 1519 North Springfield avenue, said that he was certain the waiter was standing in front of the bar.

Today the defense is expected to put on several witnesses who will testify if the stranger and not Walsh who killed George and Gast and then Walsh himself will take the stand. A verdict in the case is expected some time tomorrow.

N. Y. PRESSMEN SPURN AWARD OF U. S. JUDGE; QUIT

New York, Feb. 28.—Union pressmen in all New York morning newspaper pressrooms abandoned their posts tonight, according to an announcement by the Publishers' Association of New York City.

Immediately following the announcement the publishers gave out the following statement:

"The action of the union pressmen was due to dissatisfaction with an arbitration decision made by Federal Judge Manton Feb. 22.

"The arbitration fixed $51 and $45 weekly as pay for day pressmen in charge and journeymen, respectively, and $54 and $48 weekly for each night pressman in charge and journeyman pressman.

Before beginning the arbitration under conditions proposed by the union itself, both sides signed an agreement to abide by the judge's decision. By repudiating the decision the union terminates a thirty year relationship with the New York papers.

"The publishers in a statement signed by all the seventeen newspaper owners publicly announced that they would not again make a contract with the pressmen's union.

"All other unions in New York newspapers are standing by the publishers."

At about midnight the papers were issued—eight pages, except the Daily News, which contained sixteen tabloid size pages.

President Berry of the pressmen's union advised against the walkout. After a union meeting there was an unconfirmed report that the men had decided to return to work tomorrow. It was reported that a committee of the pressmen would be appointed to present their side to the employers.

OPIUM SMOKERS SEIZED IN POLICE RAID ON FLAT

An opium party was interrupted last night in a flat at 2437 Prairie avenue, when four men and three women were brought back from their poppy dream wanderings by Officers John Dawe and Peter Callahan, the dope squad of the Cottage Grove avenue station.

The police say they have had the flat under surveillance for some time, suspecting it was a hangout of dope fiends. Last night the raid was planned after the habitués had gathered for their "smoke." Several guns—hypodermic needles—were taken.

They are: Mrs. Margaret Black, the landlady; Frank Moriarty, 2441 Prairie avenue; James Ross, 2437 Prairie avenue; Frank Cassidy and his wife Myrtle, 2960 Indiana avenue; Mrs. Cora Dalley, 2960 Indiana avenue, and Edith Mode, 4700 Indiana avenue.

John W. Folmer, inspector in charge of the Chicago office of the state department of education and registration, yesterday opened a drive on quack hair "specialist" colleges and quack physicians who offer "$5,000 a year jobs by mail order instruction."

Mr. Folmer, after posing as a prospective student, found a "college" on Cottage Grove avenue without proper credentials and ordered a "Mr. Dahlheimer," who operated it, to close his place of business.

CHANGE CUSTOM TO HANG CHURCH IN AFTERNOON

4 O'Clock Friday Is Time Set by Court.

Harvey W. Church, convicted of the murder of two automobile salesmen, will die on the gallows in the county jail at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Yesterday Chief Justice Kitcham Scanlan entered the final order of execution and Sheriff Charles W. Peters and his deputy, H. C. W. Laubenhilfer, set the hour for the hanging.

The only thing which can now save Church from the gallows is action by the Supreme court or executive clemency, but both have already refused to interfere, and it is considered a certainty that the condemned man will hang.

The ordinary custom of executing condemned men in the morning was broken in Church's case because of his condition. "For days he has not moved nor uttered a sound and physicians and alienists say that he is mentally dead, a mental suicide."

"Ordinarily" condemned men are hanged in the morning," said Chief Deputy Laubenhilfer, "but in Church's case it is different. From the reports of the doctors he is more dead than alive and knows absolutely nothing that is going on about him. So in this case it will make little difference to him what time in the day he is executed, but it will be much more convenient for the jury of doctors and other witnesses who must be present."

Reports that Church had made efforts to talk were flatly denied yesterday by Warden Westbrook, Jail Physician McNamara, and the three guards, who keep a constant watch over the man. They report that there has been no noticeable change in his condition for many days.

MRS. BEMIS TAKES SEAT; FACES SUIT IN OUSTER TODAY

Plan to Test County Board's Election.

While Mrs. E. W. Bemis was being sworn in and welcomed yesterday as a member of the board of county commissioners, papers were being drawn up in the state's attorney's office seeking to oust her on the ground that her election was illegal.

She is the first woman commissioner in Cook county and the first woman to be appointed to an elective office, but her tenure of office may be short due to the proposed court action. The state's attorney's petition asks leave of the Circuit court to institute quo warranto proceedings against her. It is to be filed today.

Opposed by Maclean.
She was selected on Monday by the board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of President Peter Reinberg. Commissioner William H. Maclean, who is an attorney, opposed her election on the ground the board did not have the power to fill the vacancy. A special election should have been held, he said, and as it was not, the board was not within the law in its action.

Begins Her Duties on Board.
However, she was sworn in yesterday by County Clerk Switzer and escorted to the board rooms, where the budget was being considered by a delegation of women representing various women's clubs.

Commissioner Bemis answered present when the roll was called and entered upon her duties, surrounded by several large floral offerings and amidst the congratulations of throngs of friends.

It was pointed out by her friends that the ouster proceedings may be delayed until the present term expires in December.

Friends Say Deed Was Due to Early Injury.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 28.—Although physicians said there was no hope for her recovery, Mrs. Edgar C. Frady, shot three times by her husband, who then slashed his own throat, Sunday afternoon in a local hotel, still clung to life tonight. Frady, while in a serious condition, was said to be on the road to recovery. He is under arrest and is being guarded in the hospital by a deputy sheriff.

Frady declared when questioned by the sheriff, it was said, that he did not remember shooting his wife. He admitted that they had scuffled for possession of the revolver, the officials said, but declared that his memory failed him on subsequent events.

LAI'D TO OLD ACCIDENT.
A serious injury sustained many years ago by Edgar C. Frady, when he was struck over the head by the debris of a falling derrick, was recalled by friends of the Chicago automobile man yesterday as the possible explanation for his shooting his wife in Miami Sunday and then attempting his own life with a razor. Following the accident, according to his old friends, Frady began to act "queer," according to friends.

"It was in California in 1890, when Frady was 37, that the accident occurred," said a county official yesterday who has known Frady for years. "Just after his marriage to Miss Lillian Johnson, his first wife, Frady became connected with the Earl Fruit company and moved to the Pacific coast."

Hit by Huge Derrick.
"One day, while supervising some construction work, Frady was struck full in the face by a portion of a huge derrick which crashed to the ground. He was standing beneath the structure looking upward at the time. Frady lay in a half-conscious condition in a hospital for weeks. Though always a keen business man, he was always a bit 'queer.' His eccentricities appeared more marked after the accident."

Shortly before the Iroquois theater fire in 1903, Frady returned to Chi-

A DAY'S CRIME

Paul Schroeder, 4823 North Central Park avenue, arrested for stealing $1,500 in cash and jewelry from his brother-in-law, Jacob Lebrecht.

Frank Forent, 1510 West 51st street, manager of a Great Atlantic and Pacific tea store at 3359 South Ashland avenue, held up and robbed of $100.

Max Marks, 5935 Prairie avenue, held up and robbed at 61st street and Wabash avenue of $156.14.

Mrs. George Weissbaum, 871 North Sacramento avenue, robbed of $404 in cash and jewelry near her home.

Norman W. Fay, 52 North Long avenue, and Lincoln J. Steffens, 4148 Jackson boulevard, arrested for slandering character of Miss Anna Tuohy, 911 South Sacramento boulevard.

ago, bringing his wife and their 5 year old son, Leon.

The Iroquois fire wiped out four members of the family: Mrs. Frady, her little son, and her two sisters, Mrs. Spindler of Valparaiso, Ind., and Mrs. Burdette Rife, all perishing. Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Frady's mother, had a thrilling escape by crawling on all fours across the famous "firemen's ladder," suspended at a dizzy height between the furnace-like theater and an adjoining building. Mrs. Johnson's father is still living on the south side.

After dissolution of the Heter & Weyl company, Frady was successfully credit manager for a picture frame manufactory, a piano factory, and a large retail grocery firm in the loop. While employed at the latter place he is said to have first met John R. Thompson, restaurant man, his brother-in-law.

Mr. Thompson Still Ignorant.

Close relatives maintained an unflinching vigil by the bedside of Mr. Thompson at the Drake hotel yesterday as news from Miami hourly grew more discouraging as to the condition of Mrs. Frady.

Mr. Thompson has not yet been informed of the shooting of his sister by her husband, it is said. Mr. Thompson has been in a serious condition with heart trouble.

Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Frady's mother, is also reported to be in a state of nervous collapse.

Broker Drops Dead on North Side Elevated Train

Perley Russell, 60 years old, a broker living at 4611 Hazel avenue, collapsed in a Howard avenue express last night as it was drawing into the Chicago avenue elevated station. He was dead when the police arrived. Death is believed to have been due to heart disease.

MORE FIRMS OF STOCK BROKERS GO TO THE WALL

New York, Feb. 28.—[Special.]—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against four stock brokerage firms were filed by the United States District court today. The petitioning creditors scheduled liabilities of nearly a million dollars in the four petitions, while the estimated assets were considerably below that figure.

Four failed yesterday and the total since the "suckers' panic" brought about by the district attorney's investigation of bucket shops is now twenty-seven. Since last November the number is thirty-nine.

The largest amounts involved were in the case of Howell & Wales stock brokers at 30 Broad street. Liabilities are $200,000 and assets $400,000.

A petition asking involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against the firm of Hall & Co., brokers, of 50 Broad street, was filed by three creditors. The liabilities were given as $100,000 and the assets at $25,000. Hall & Co. have offices in twelve eastern cities.

These two suits were filed just before the clerk's office closed this afternoon. Earlier in the day similar proceedings had been instituted against two other firms, as follows:

Harry A. Cochrane, trading under the name of H. A. Cochrane & Co., of 67 Exchange place.

Morton Lachenbruch & Co., of 42 Broad street, with liabilities given as $100,000 and assets estimated at not more than $75,000.

At noon the New York Curb exchange announced the suspension of the Lachenbruch firm.

Five recommendations intended to protect the investing public from bucket shop operators and other irresponsible persons dealing in securities were made today by the additional grand jury. In a report to Judge Joseph F. Mulqueen in the Court of General Sessions. The jury has been engaged for more than a month in investigating the bucket shop situation.

O'DONNELL CASE DEFENSE OFFERS NO TESTIMONY

Testimony in the case of Simon O'Donnell, former president of the Chicago Building Trades council, and three other labor officials on trial before Judge Caverly came to an abrupt close yesterday when attorneys for all except one of the defendants submitted the case of the defendants to the jury without evidence.

The one leader to make a defense was Albert Green, business agent of the painters' union. His attorney put on witnesses who testified with regard to conditions at the Garden City Planting and Manufacturing company and the Senate theater. Green was accused of having collected "fines" from the owners of the two places to settle strikes. The witnesses were called to testify that the strikes were justified.

Following the completion of the testimony and the overruling of a number of motions on behalf of the defendants, closing arguments to the jury were begun, each side being limited to two days.

EGYPT IS FREE; ENGLAND ENDS PROTECTORATE

Land of Nile Gets Chance to Rule Itself.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, Feb. 28.—Egypt is free, Prime Minister Lloyd George announced this afternoon that Great Britain has abandoned its protectorate. He announced the terms of the declaration which Lord Allenby, the British high commissioner in Egypt, presented to Sultan Hussein Kemal today.

The abolition of the protectorate leaves Egypt free to work out its own form of government, subject to certain guarantees. Martial law will cease as soon as an act of indemnity is passed by the Egyptian government.

Mr. Lloyd George said the British government long has recognized that the protectorate no longer was a necessary form for the relationship between Great Britain and Egypt. It had also seen, owing to Egypt's peculiar geographical position, that the protectorate could not be terminated unless British imperial interests were fully protected. The government therefore had decided to proceed by a unilateral declaration.

Will Protect Foreign Interests.

Regarding martial law he said it had not been used to enforce British policy in Egypt, but it had been the instrument of the Egyptian minister. An act of indemnity, therefore, was necessary before it could be dispensed with.

Two clauses of the declaration define the relationship between Great Britain and Egypt, declaring that four matters were absolutely reserved to the British government. They follow:

1. Security of the communications of the British empire in Egypt.
2. The defense of Egypt against all foreign aggression or interference direct or indirect.
3. The protection of foreign interests in Egypt and the protection of the minorities there.
4. The government is prepared to make an agreement with Egypt along these lines, but until the agreement is concluded the status quo remains.

Foreign Powers Unconcerned.

Mr. Lloyd George said that Great Britain regards the matter as affecting only Great Britain and Egypt, the foreign powers being unconcerned, and he proposed to settle this "unmistakably" when the protectorate is finally terminated. He said there could be no change of status in the Sudan because British capital was invested there, but Egypt would be given guarantees safeguarding its water supply. Lord Allenby returned to Egypt in full accord with this policy. All recent correspondence with the sultan has been laid before the house.

A New Land of the Free

Great Britain announced yesterday that it had withdrawn the protectorate of Egypt. Egypt has a population of 10,000,000.

British interest in Egypt, whose Suez canal makes it the empire's highway to India and the rich regions of the east, really dates from 1848, when the railroad from Alexandria to Cairo was started.

JAIL BROKERS IN $250,000 LARCENY

New York, Feb. 28.—Three members of the firm of Friedman, Markelson & company, stock brokers, of 45 Beaver street, were arrested tonight and taken to police headquarters in connection with the alleged larceny of $250,000 from Alfonso J. Deschamps, a contractor and real estate operator of Hartford, Conn.

Franklin A. Luce Will Leave $375,000 in Trust

The will of the late Franklin A. Luce, former resident manager for the Skinner Silk company, was filed in the Probate court yesterday. The document disposes of an estate amounting to more than $375,000, which is placed in trust. Seventy per cent of the income will be paid to the widow, Mrs. Helen M. P. Luce, 1507 North State street. The remaining 30 per cent is to be divided equally among Mrs. Marion D. Thatcher of Pueblo, Colo., a daughter, Clarence S. Luce, a brother in New York, and a sister, Mrs. Wilbur M. Purinton, Haydenville, Mass.

New York, Feb. 28.—(Special.)—The estate of George W. Perkins, who was a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., has been appraised for inheritance tax purposes at $6,000,000, gross, without deductions for debts or taxes, it was learned today.

IF VILLAIN IS FOILED MOVIE IS FIT FOR YOUNG

Five hundred members of the Chicago Woman's Aid society, meeting at a luncheon yesterday for the promotion of better films for children, were told that they were responsible for the type of "movies" that was being shown.

"Women make up the largest portion of the motion picture audience today," declared William A. Holland, speaking for the Chicago exhibitors. The producer aims to give the public "what it wants and that is what the picture fans are getting. If the women of this nation want different films—won't say better films—all they have to do is to support the kind they want and boycott the other kind."

Dr. Herman Adler of the Institute for Juvenile Research, speaking on the subject of "The Psychological Effect of Motion Pictures on the Child," declared that he had never in all his experience known of a case where a child's entry into the delinquency court was caused by motion pictures.

"It matters little how bandit-infested the silver screen becomes, it makes little difference how many German spies, Indian fights, and holdups are portrayed on the screen for the growing boy," said Dr. Adler. "They give action, and action is what the boy wants. As long as the play runs true, as long as right triumphs there will be no harmful effects."

EXECUTIONS ON $704,500 BOND REALTY ISSUED

Executions amounting to $704,500 against real estate scheduled on surety bonds forfeited in Criminal court cases since December, 1920, were placed in the hands of the sheriff yesterday afternoon by D. F. Volini, representing Christian F. Wiehe of the bond department of the state's attorney's office.

The action follows an investigation of bond forfeitures which began several months ago. In connection with the move the Chicago crime commission has asked the board of county commissioners to refuse to settle any of the cases without the express approval of State's Attorney Crowe.

EXEMPTIONS ON INCOME TAX ARE JUMPED TO $1,000

Con Con Refuses to Leave It to Legislature.

BY WALTER RODERICK.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 28.—(Special)—The maximum exemption from a tax on income derived from personal service was raised from $500 to $1,000 by the constitutional convention after considerable debate this afternoon.

An amendment to section 4 of the revenue article, presented by Delegate W. A. Johnson of Princeton, and providing for an exemption of $1,000 for the head of a family and of $500 for "any other person," was carried by a vote of 33 to 24, after several other proposed amendments—one of them removing all exemption—had been defeated.

The revised section was then adopted by the convention by a vote of 52 to 6, the bare number required. Those voting against it were Delegates Walter S. Wilson, S. E. Pincus, and Michael Jarus of Chicago; Henry M. Dunlap of Savoy; Hiram E. Todd of Peoria, and Rodney H. Brandon of Moline.

Amendments Voted Down.

An amendment, offered by Rufus C. Dawes, allowing an exemption of $500 for the head of a family receiving an annual income of less than $1,000 and of $1,000 for the head of a family receiving an annual income of less than $2,000, lost by a vote of 43 to 12. Another amendment, offered by Delegate William E. Trautmann of East St. Louis, which in effect left the entire matter of exemption up to the legislature also was overwhelmingly defeated.

Delegate Dawes, Frederic R. De Young, Charles H. Hamill, George A. Dupuy, Thomas Rinaker, and others bitterly opposed any change in the $500 exemption provided for in the section as adopted last Wednesday. Reconsideration of the income tax section under notice served last Thursday came up after the convention had wrangled all morning and part of the afternoon over Section 8 without coming to an agreement. The latter section was submitted to the revenue committee with instructions to draft a new one for presentation to the convention tomorrow.

How the Section Works.

The income tax section as revised reads as follows:

"A general income tax may be levied also on all incomes; if the income tax be graduated and progressive the highest rate shall not exceed three times the lowest rate. An exemption, not to exceed $1,000, may be allowed to the head of a family, and not to exceed $500 to any other person from income derived from personal service. "No exemption shall be allowed for income derived from any other source, but the general assembly may permit such deductions as shall compensate for taxes paid upon property from which the taxed income is derived or for income tax paid in lieu of tax by valuation."

Assistant Corporation Counsel Leon Hornstein invaded the convention hall with the revenue proposals of the finance and local transportation committees of the Chicago city council.

POLITICAL NOTES

The "old" and the "new" Republican state committees met simultaneously in the Great Northern hotel yesterday with State Chairman Frank L. Smith presiding over both, and issued a call for the state convention to be held on April 21. The convention will nominate three trustees of the University of Illinois, and make a platform. It is expected the city hall again will make a fight to have its platform regulated by the state and national conventions in 1920 adopted. The committee changed the basis of representation in the convention from one delegate for each 400 votes cast for governor to one delegate to each 500 votes. This was done because of the addition of the women's vote cast the first time for governor in 1920. On the basis the convention would be unwieldy.

The Democratic Municipal court said will be, announced today, it was said yesterday at Hotel Sherman headquarters of the regular organization. The anti-regulars' slate is to be made tomorrow. The first day for filing is March 13. Petitions will be filed with City Clerk James T. Agio, who is campaign manager for the irregular Democrats.

Tomorrow is the final day for filing state, congressional and legislative petitions. "Last place" is next to "first place" in the view of candidates in Chicago districts where there are from a dozen to twenty-five entries. The same is true of candidates for county commissioner in Chicago, who file petitions with County Clerk Switzer. The last day for withdrawals is March 7.

Werner W. Schroeder, one of Gov. Small's attorneys and head of the Legislative Reference bureau, has resigned from the bureau. Montgomery S. Winning, of Chicago, who was legal secretary in the last legislature to Speaker G. A. Dahlberg, was appointed to the place. Speaker Dahlberg and Mr. Schroeder recently formed a law partnership.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, daughter of the late William E. Mason, filed her petition as a candidate for her father's unexpired term as congressman-at-large. Earlier she had filed as a candidate for the full term. Benjamin Michalek of Chicago filed as a candidate for both terms.

The Crowe anti-city hall Republicans will start their primary campaign next Saturday with a reception at the Briggs house, headquarters for candidates from the country towns, the hours being between noon and 2 p. m. Women candidates on the Crowe slate will hold a reception on March 9 at the Briggs house parlors.

William G. McAdoo and Mrs. McAdoo will be in Chicago probably Friday. Considerable political import, it was said, may be connected with Mr. McAdoo's Chicago stopover. One plan, it was learned, is an informal entertainment, at which Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Illinois member of the Democratic national congressional campaign committee from Illinois, is to be a participant. George E. Brennan, another Democratic leader, may confer with Mr. McAdoo.

James M. Daley, chairman of the Democratic county committee, withdrew from active leadership of the organization primary campaign and started personal headquarters in Parlor C of Hotel Sherman, under management of John P. Bolton.

The political sick list now includes County Recorder Joseph P. Haas, State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe, and County Commissioner William Buse, all in bed with the "flu." Former Gov. Deneen was discharged from the hospital yesterday.

STATE READY TO BEGIN SMALL'S TRIAL ON MONDAY

BY PARKE BROWN.

Despite rumors to the contrary, the state is ready to enter upon the actual trial of Gov. Len Small next Monday morning and has not even considered asking a continuance.

Reports of a delay were traced back yesterday to the fact that subpoena servers have told some witnesses they will not be wanted on Monday and probably will not have to go to Waukegan for two weeks after March 6, the first day of the court term. This statement was based on the theory that the selection of the jury will require at least two weeks.

Other witnesses who are to be called in the early stages of the trial have been told to appear before Judge Claire C. Edwards on Monday and they will be instructed by the court about their return. The first batch of subpoenas is now being served.

To keep the costs down they are being handled by special deputies. All told there will be more than 300 summonses served by the state. The names are not being made public by the prosecution, but the great majority are employees of the state, of banks, and of the packing houses.

Following the disposition of the witnesses on hand Monday morning, the work of picking the jurors will be begun. Of the venire list of fifty, all but one—William Hogrow of Waukegan—have been served.

COUNTRY TOWNS CUT OUT PRIMARY TO SAVE EXPENSE

Robert Dusek was nominated for trustee of the township of Cicero in the only primary election held in the suburban towns yesterday. Other towns waived the usual elections to reduce expenses. Dusek led his nearest opponent, John Kilner, by 1,597 votes, receiving 2,512 to Kilner's 975. The election will be on April 4.

In Oak Park, Willis McFeeley, candidate without opposition for president of the village board to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of George W. Pratt, called the candidates for other positions together and they agreed to waive the primary. This action was followed in other towns. McFeeley estimated that Oak Park was saved $2,000 by the course.

CAR LINES AND MEN IN A SECRET PACT, SMITH ASKS

Hearing on Fares Again Up in Commerce Board.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The hearings on the surface lines car fare were resumed yesterday before the Illinois commerce commission but sufficient evidence was not on hand to resume the entire day. In the meantime the 8 cent fare continues. The Landin-Smith-Thompson political machine told the voters that car riders were being cheated out of $60,000 a day because the fare is 8 cents instead of 6. This "cheating" now totals more than $25,000,000 since Gov. Small was inaugurated.

In addition taxes have been raised $17,000,000 in Chicago this year. The two items total $42,000,000. The hearing on the elevated road fare, started last September, has not gotten to the point where any evidence has been presented. That fare was hoped from a nickel to cash fare of 10 cents or four rides on tickets for 35 cents.

Digs After Secret Agreement.
Chairman Smith of the commission asked Attorney James Sheehan yesterday if there is not a secret agreement between the surface lines and their employees.

"No, we have put in evidence the agreement between the company and the men," replied the attorney for the lines.
"But is there a secret agreement which has not been placed in evidence?"
"No, not that I know of."

"Is there an agreement that if the car fare is reduced 1 cent wages will be reduced 20 per cent?"
"Not that I ever heard of."

It was not disclosed whether the commission has evidence to support the existence of a secret pact. None was presented yesterday, but it was pointed out there would be no reason for the questions unless the commission had some information on the subject of inquiry.

Business Men on Stand.
The testimony yesterday largely related to a decrease in the price of labor, materials, and money. A banker, manufacturer, and dealer testified.

Among the witnesses were Ernest S. Simpson of the International Harvester company, Clarence W. Schaaf of Pluehlein Shoe company, and Gustav F. Fischer, president of the Cosmopolitan State bank. John T. Fanning, an engineer, told of the prices he had paid for iron, steel, and lumber.

E. H. Morgan, schedule maker of the surface lines, was another witness. Chester E. Cleveland sought to make the point from this testimony that the car companies pay for much time of car men which is not used in operating the cars. This is timed used to report, time for lunch, overtime and under-time.

"We were ordered to pay for those conditions of employment by Mayor Thompson and former State's Attorney Hoyne when they arbitrated the wage rate some years back," said Attorney James Sheehan for the companies.

Mr. Sheehan said at another time that a reduction in car fares must mean a reduction in wages, because wages are no large a part of the operating expense.

The hearing will be resumed at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Auto Driver Convicted for Killing of Child
Charles Owens, 18 years old, was sentenced yesterday by a jury in Judge Fitch's court for killing a child with an automobile. According to the evidence, Owens, while driving at high speed, struck Albert Kirchner, who was playing in the street. After striking the lad, who died an hour later, Owens sped away.

A SUBWAY PLAN

Diagram showing route of proposed lake front surface car subway.

PLANS for a lake front surface car subway from 14th street to Oak street, and extending northwest to Clark and Center streets, were made public yesterday by the North Central association at a luncheon at the Mid-Day club. The association contemplates a bore beginning at Indiana avenue and 14th street, running diagonally into Michigan avenue at Roosevelt road. From that point north to Lake street it would be constructed between the curb line of Michigan avenue and the present building line of the Art Institute. From Lake street and Michigan avenue the bore would extend northeast beneath the river east of the boulevard link bridge to St. Clair street, north to Oak street, west to Lincoln parkway, north to North avenue, west to Clark street, and then northwest to Clark and Center streets.

HOFFMAN URGES THREE-SIDED POISON BOTTLE

Triangular shaped bottles for poison, as a means of checking the increasing numbers of accidental deaths due to "getting hold of the wrong bottle," is a suggestion of Coroner Peter M. Hoffman, made yesterday at the beginning of his campaign to restrict the indiscriminate selling of deadly poisons.

"It would be practically impossible to secure legislation requiring a doctor's prescription for the ordinary disinfectants, which are deadly if taken internally," the coroner declared. "It would not be fair to the druggists and not a certain safeguard in any event."

"During the last year there were sixty-six accidental deaths from poisoning, compared to forty-one two years ago, and twenty-two of this year's were by carbolic acid. Persons becoming ill during the night often make mistakes in the bottle."

"We were ordered to pay for those conditions of employment by Mayor Thompson and former State's Attorney Hoyne when they arbitrated the wage rate some years back," said Attorney James Sheehan for the companies.

Mr. Sheehan said at another time that a reduction in car fares must mean a reduction in wages, because wages are no large a part of the operating expense.

The hearing will be resumed at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

COUNTY BOARD VOTES BUDGET OF $23,482,733

Expenditure of $23,482,733.33 by Cook county during the coming year was authorized last night by the county board in passing the annual budget and the good roads program sponsored by Commissioner Frank J. Wilson, chairman of the roads and bridges committee. This program, which permits the spending of more than $6,000,000 for building and upkeep of country roads, had but two opponents. Commissioners Bemis and McKinlay.

Every county office received the same amount as last year, with the exception of the sheriff, who was granted seventy-four additional employees, highway police, by court order. The only objection to the regular county budget was voiced by Commissioner Joseph Fitzgerald, who said he could see no good reason why building trade mechanics employed by the county should be reduced to the pay fixed by the Landis award.

Fix Rural Police Pay.
The pay of the highway police was fixed at $150 per month with an allowance of $35 monthly for the maintenance of motorcycles, which the deputies must themselves furnish. The granting of the new employees to Sheriff Peters necessitated the abolishment of the present staff of fifteen men under the county highway department and the forcing out of James F. Boyle, their present chief. Other arrangements to retain his services are to be made.

The last legislature took from the townships the duty of road building and upkeep and transferred that responsibility to the county commissioners and authorized a tax levy for this purpose. The levy is estimated at approximately $4,500,000, but it is expected that what is actually collected will amount to $3,372,000. There is

In addition $3,000,000 more available, $2,000,000 from bonds and $1,000,000 due from the state as its share of the road costs.

McKinlay Opposes Plan.
When the question arose of appropriating out of these funds salaries for more than 400 employees, to be hired as needed, Commissioner McKinlay offered a substitute motion limiting the highway department to its present staff and appropriation.

This motion was tabled after Commissioner Wilson pointed out that the law made it mandatory to make the appropriation and voicing his belief that the public needed and demanded more and better roads.

YOU can make your dining room one of the most attractive rooms in the house, if you choose to do it.

Here is one of the means of doing it: Beautiful furniture, perfectly made, the Scholle quality in it, and backed by our unreserved guaranty of your complete and continuous satisfaction.

The Chippendale type in furniture is very interesting. Chippendale referred to his work as an attempt to satisfy those who "regretted that an art capable of so much perfection and refinement should be executed with so little refinement and excellence." His productions showed solidity without heaviness; his chairs especially showed this characteristic.

Most people like such furniture; but tastes differ in this as in everything else. We offer the above pieces to those who like them; we have a great wealth of other beautiful things, different but just as good, for those who don't care for Chippendale ideas.

You'll find here just what will please you, for any room or any spot in your home; one piece or a full suite. And the prices are certainly very low, as you can see.

CRUSADING IN ASIA STICKS TO TRAILS OF OIL

Allies Show No Interest in Poor Armenia.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) (Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.) ROME, Feb. 28.—To close observers the only palpable effects of the allies' huge expenditures in lives, treasure, and suffering in the near east are logs of allied prestige and the strengthening of nationalist movements for independence, which, beginning with Egypt, has infected the entire Moslem world.

That is the result. And it causes the interrogator—just what would the allies have America believe; that there is a cause of crusaders delivering persecuted Christianity from "Moslem fanaticism," or an altruistic but costly desire to help backward peoples learn the advantages of civilization? Is America delinquent to its moral duty by not sharing—or rather paying—the expenses of these campaigns?

One glance at the allied policies towards the so-called Christian races supposedly the most needy of protection, and also the policies concerning the admittedly backward people, most needy of civilization, will answer these questions.

No Scramble for Armenia.

According to the testimony of the allies themselves, Armenia is most in need of protection. They have been telling Uncle Sam this for years. Yet when America did not accept the mandate for Armenia, the allies did not rush over one another like they did in occupying fertile oil territories, to see that Armenia was not harmed by the Turks.

When Armenia was being occupied by the Turkish Nationalists, more than a year ago, the British had numerous divisions in Mesopotamia, Palestine, and Egypt, "civilizing" the people in these places. France had soldiers in Cilicia and Syria. But there was not the slightest suggestion to send some of these troops to help the country which British propaganda two years ago stated would be absolutely wiped out if it came again into the hands of the Turks.

Needy Nations Neglected.

The attitude of the allies during this fighting on the Armenian front and their neglect of other so-called Christians in unfertile and unstrategic places vividly demonstrate how much sincerity there is in their cry for the Christian minorities among the Hed-

Draw a Check on It for the Unfortunate.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

"The Tangle," a three act play, dealing in love and mystery, will be given by the Country club of Evanston this evening for the first and final time. It was written by Abram Mendenhall, who plays the hero, Robert Glenn, leader, in the play. Mr. Mendenhall gives his play and his services for the benefit of the Near East relief. Mrs. Martin Kent North, am is chairman of the general committee of arrangements. She was formerly Recording secretary of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs. As chairman of the Near East relief she is conducting a statewide campaign in the interests of the thousands of helpless orphans in Bible lands.

Lady Anne Azgabetian of Armenia will speak briefly between acts. Patrons of the play are Arthur E. Anderson, Albert H. Bowman, Chester A. Cook, Rufus C. Davies, Clinton Merick, Edwin S. Mills, and James A. Patten. Patronesses are Mrs. George B. Dryden, Mrs. Rufus C. Davies, Mrs. Robert B. Ennis, Mrs. Clyde Jones, Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. Walter Dill Scott, Nazareth Barsamian is secretary of the general committee.

Jazians and Bedouins in the center of Arabia, unquestionably the most backward people in the near east. The Hedjazians, however, were given complete independence and besides receive a comfortable subsidy of money from the British.

Those people are regarded as fit for self government, but in Mesopotamia, Syria and Palestine, where there are many educated Turks who speak every language known and who are thoroughly acquainted with philosophy, history and political science, the people are found unfit.

One of the peculiarities of the ability of the Arabs to govern themselves is that their fitness is determined in inverse proportion to the proximity of oil wells as witnessed by the number of troops in the Moslem regions and the lack of them in the less fertile yet considerably populated desert regions.

Persia and Azerbaijan of course have been given nominal independence, but the British saw that the Baku oil supply was handled through a British administrator.

Doctor at 82 Finds Mothers Prefer His Formula to New-Fangled Salts And Coal Tar Remedies for Babies

Judgment of 1892 vindicated by world's approval of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a simple vegetable compound for constipation—So safe thousands give it to babies in arms—Now has largest sale in the world.

WHEN a man is in the 83rd year of his age, as I am, there are certain things he has learned that only time can teach him. The basis of treating sickness has not changed since I left Medical College in 1875, nor since I placed on the market the laxative prescription I had used in my practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

From a recent portrait of Dr. W. B. CALDWELL, Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin Born Shelbyville, Mo., 1839

Then the treatment of constipation, biliousness, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of my Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other mild laxative herbs with pepsin.

Recently new medicines have been brought out for constipation that contain calomel, which is mercury, salts of various kinds, minerals, and coal tar. These are all drastic purges, many of them dangerous, and the medical profession is warning the public against them. Certain coal tar products will depress the heart; certain salts give rise to intestinal poisoning, impaction and rupture of the intestines. If grown people want to use them no one can deny them the privilege, but they should never be given to children.

The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with pills and powders and strong drugs, even if disguised in candy? My remedy, too, costs less than most others, only about a cent a dose. A bottle such as you can find in any drug store, will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the babe in arms because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal.

The formula of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is on the cover of every bottle, and the ingredients have the endorsement of the U. S. Pharmacopoeia.

$10,000 Worth of Syrup Pepsin Free

In remembrance of my 83rd birthday I have set aside the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars to be given away in half-ounce bottles of my Syrup Pepsin. Only one Free Trial bottle to a family. All are constipated now and then, and here is an opportunity for you and others to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin FREE OF CHARGE. Ask for your free bottle today, simply sending name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Do not postpone this.

Illinois Central System Says Service Is Keynote in Handling Freight

The freight service of the Illinois Central System is founded upon prompt and regular movement of freight and the considerate treatment of patrons' wants by an organization which strives to render a service of satisfaction. We hold those to be the requisite elements of freight service.

The Illinois Central System is among the leading railroads of the country in handling perishable freight. Fruits from the tropics arriving by steamships are moved north from the port of New Orleans in solid trainloads for distribution to marketing centers throughout the country. Domestic fruits and vegetables produced in Louisiana, Mississippi and Tennessee are loaded at stations on our lines and shipped to principal points throughout the United States and Canada, moving largely in solid trainloads. Vegetables from the Rio Grande valley of Texas move in substantial volume through the Baton Rouge gateway and are handled by the Illinois Central System from Baton Rouge to principal points in the North and East. Solid trainloads of meat and packinghouse products are handled between Omaha, Sioux City and Chicago. Through trains from Council Bluffs to Chicago carry California vegetables and fruits.

Transportation of quality and quantity is an essential for the well-being and development of trade in commodities commonly classed as perishable freight. Without rapid and dependable transportation service consuming centers would have to depend on supplies from relatively nearby points of production, and trade generally would be contracted. The accurate maintenance of schedules is important in handling perishable freight. As an example of the kind of service rendered by the Illinois Central System, it is worthy to note that during the past six months our fast freight trains handling perishable and other high-class freight long distances have made scheduled early morning deliveries 99 per cent on time. A bureau in the office of our car accountant at Chicago receives telegraphic advices of the movement of cars loaded with perishable freight and is able at any time to furnish shippers of such cars or consignees the exact location and probable time of arrival or delivery to connecting line.

Fast merchandise trains are operated out of all the principal cities on the Illinois Central System on schedules which enable specialization in forwarding the freight the same day received.

The Illinois Central System also ranks among the leaders of the railroads in originating coal and lumber traffic. This class of traffic does not require such rapid movement as perishable freight and merchandise, but does require regular and dependable service, which we are enabled to give through a well-equipped transportation plant and special attention to the freight movement. To a large extent these commodities are classified into solid trains and handled long distances intact, thus minimizing detention at terminals.

Not all cars are handled without delay. Delays occur from causes beyond our control—others from causes under our control. The delays, however, are extremely small, taking into consideration the thousands of cars handled daily. A loaded car found delayed is immediately placed in a preferred class, through special carding and notation on waybill, and handled in fast freight trains to avoid further delay and, if possible, to overcome that already sustained.

We are continually adding to our equipment in the effort to keep abreast of traffic demands. We own 1,700 locomotives and 69,127 freight cars. Since the return from federal control we have purchased and received 150 locomotives, 1,000 refrigerator cars, 300 stock cars, and 200 flat cars. We have recently placed orders for 2,000 additional gondola cars and 1,000 additional refrigerators.

We are striving constantly to perfect all departments of our service. We realize that our worth to the public is measured by the service we give, and we invite the public to call upon us for any service, small or large.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President Illinois Central System.

NEW INCOME TAX REGULATIONS FAIRER TO TAXPAYERS, EXPERT SAYS.

BY ROBERT MILLER.

JUST issued by the treasury department, the new income tax regulations are of vital interest to the American business man. Many questions left unsettled by the law itself were decided, so far as the bureau of internal revenue is concerned, when the secretary of the treasury approved the new compilation. To many taxpayers, the particular construction adopted is a matter of desperate importance.

The compilation is to some extent a mere repetition of rules laid down in previous regulations. It includes a quantity of new material based on new provisions in the revenue act of 1921, but it further represents changes in the view of the treasury department regarding some points which were not changed by the new law.

The treasury department discloses, in general, a broad attitude, reflecting the experience gained since regulations of 1918 were first issued. This does not mean that any one will be able to agree with all that he finds in the new regulations, but it is certainly true that the treasury has decided a considerable number of the difficult new questions with real fairness to the taxpayers.

"Like Kind or Use" Explained.

Those interested in taxation problems have been anxious to know what attitude the bureau would take in construing that provision of section 201 of the revenue act of 1921 which enacts that no gain or loss shall be recognized when investment or business property is exchanged for property of "like kind or use." The new regulations show a reasonably broad attitude toward this provision, stating:

"The words 'like kind' are defined as having reference to the nature or character of the property, and not to grade or quality. Therefore, under this paragraph no gain or loss is realized by one other than the dealer from the exchange of real estate for real estate, or from the exchange of evidences of indebtedness (such as bonds and notes) for evidences of indebtedness, or from the exchange of shares of stock for other shares of stock."

Where evidences of indebtedness are exchanged for other evidences of indebtedness, the fact that any of the evidences of indebtedness involved in such exchange are secured by mortgage or other lien, or the fact that any real estate involved in an exchange is improved or unimproved, makes no difference, for such facts relate only to grade or quality of the property and not to its kind or use."

Cites an Example.

It is evident from this that an exchange of common stock in a mining corporation for common stock in a banking corporation would still be within the non-realization class, and while it is not expressly stated that an exchange of common stock for preferred stock is within the non-realization class, this seems to be implied by the general statement above quoted.

Important changes appear in the treatment of inventories of merchants. The declining markets of the last two years have made this matter of enormous importance, and changes in governmental regulations recognize more fully than before that the basis for an inventory must depend largely upon the character of the business. The general rules must yield, within limits, to established trade customs which clearly reflect income, and which overcome the particular inventory problems which that business encounters.

The old regulations 45, in a general paragraph, stated:

"Inventories must be valued at (a) cost or (b) cost or market, whichever is lower."

This rule was strictly insisted on by the bureau except in the case of specific exceptions provided in a few named industries. The corresponding provision of regulations 62 (article 1552) provided:

"The act provides two tests to which each inventory must conform: (1) It must conform as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business, and (2) it must clearly reflect the income. It follows, therefore, that inventory rules cannot be uniform but must give effect to trade customs which come within the scope of the best accounting practice in the particular trade or business."

"In order clearly to reflect income, the inventory practice of a taxpayer should be consistent from year to year, and greater weight should be given to consistency than to any particular method of inventory or basis of valuation so long as the method or basis used is substantially in accord with these regulations. An inventory which can be used under the best accounting practice in a balance sheet showing the financial position of the taxpayer can, as a general rule, be regarded as clearly reflecting his income."

"The basis of valuation most commonly used by business concerns, and which meets the requirements of the revenue act is (a) cost, or (b) cost or market, whichever is lower."

Change of Spirit Revealed.

Without quoting other highly interesting new provisions with reference to the valuation of inventories, the comparison stated above shows the difference in the spirit of the old and the new provisions. In spite of these changes, the question of inventories remains a highly technical one, and there are important limitations which the new regulations impose on the methods to be used.

One change with reference to inventories is so radical as to be startling to any one with the previous treatment of inventories. The change, however, is a good one, and is fully justified.

It relates only to the dealer in securities (quite strictly defined in article 1556 as a "merchant of securities" with an established place of business, regularly engaged in the purchase of securities and their resale to customers, and who permits such a dealer "who in his books of account regularly inventories unsold securities on hand either (a) at cost or (b) at cost or market, whichever is lower, or (c) at market value."

This is the first instance in which assets which can be earmarked have been permitted to be included in inventories at market value, without reference to whether the market is above or below cost.

Several provisions relating to dividends on corporate stock are of decided interest, including that provision in article 1543 that a distribution by a corporation out of increase of value property accrued prior to March 1, 1913 (whether or not realized by sale or other disposition) is not a dividend within the meaning of the act. This provision follows exactly section 203 of the revenue act of 1921. The especially interesting thing about the provision is that it lays down the rule that the provisions of the sentence just quoted "shall be applied uniformly to cases arising under the revenue acts of 1916, 1917, and 1918, as well as the revenue act of 1921."

This is important in such a case as the following:

"A corporation bought property in 1906 for $100,000. By 1913 this property had increased in value to $500,000, the increase having occurred before March 1, 1913. The corporation in that year declared out as a dividend all earnings or profits accumulated since Feb. 28, 1913, and declared, further, a cash dividend of $400,000, representing the increase in value of the property referred to. Under the new provision, amounts received in the $400,000 distribution need not be returned as income."

Recipients of dividends made in complete liquidation or dissolution of a corporation are affected, some favorably and some unfavorably, by the new article 1545, to the effect that "the gain realized by the stockholder from the transaction . . . is taxable as a dividend to the extent that it is paid out of earnings or profits of the corporation accumulated since Feb. 28, 1913."

Under the old provisions of the law and regulations, such distributions were not treated as dividends, and the gain arising from the transaction was determined by comparing the market value of the property received in liquidation with the cost (or basic value, or both) of the stock in respect of which the distribution was received.

Now a Deductible Loss.

The same article of the new regulations contains the following sentence:

"If the amount received by the stockholder in liquidation is less than the cost or other basis of the stock, a deductible loss is sustained."

It will be evident that this loss provision is inconsistent with the gain provision, being on an entirely different basis. The gain provision treats the liquidating dividend as (in part) a divident, the loss provision assumes that the whole amount received is of a capital nature.

The revenue act of 1921, in recognition that the country was suffering from the tax-burden incident to certain normal phases of reorganization, extended the reorganization provisions which had appeared in the revenue act of 1918 so as to permit a greater variety of reorganizations and other forms of corporate financing to go forward without resulting in income taxation. These broadening tendencies of the law are fairly reflected in the new regulations, which extend the non-realization provisions of the earlier regulations in accordance with the new law. Under the former law and regulations, an exchange of property for practically all the stock in a corporation organized to take it over, often resulted in a substantial realization of gain. Under the new regulations this is not true.

Under the old law and regulations, reorganizations might result in gain if the par or face value of the new securities exceeded the par or face value of the old. The new reorganization provisions not only extend the list of transactions which are placed in the non-realization class, but apply alike to cases in which the par or face value is increased and those in which it is not increased.

Amortization Provisions Changed.

Radical changes are indicated in the treatment of amortization allowances, but space does not permit enumerating them. One of the most important relates to the case in which a contractor furnishing war materials, received in a settlement with the government an allowance for amortization (specifically as such as to war facilities constructed by him).

Under the old law, the contractor has been required to return as a part of his gross income the entire amount so received, and it would appear in his net income except to the extent that it was reduced by an amortization deduction specifically allowed by the treasury department. Under the new regulations an allowance so made is treated as a return of capital, rather than as income per se, and is to be "traced as a reduction of the cost of the taxpayer's plant investment."

Thus, such an amount never gets into gross income. This rule is decidedly a sensible one, and is simpler and safer for the taxpayer. Under the old rule the amount allowed by the bureau of internal revenue as a proper amortization deduction was often far less than the amount which the war department had awarded. The result was that the same question had been determined differently by two different officers of the government, to the prejudice of the taxpayer.

THIS is a story of Mr. E.'s adventures with the theory of relativity. How bigger sales and better prospects were brought to him—just by changing the WORDING of his Want Advertising! Read it!

The more you tell the quicker you sell!

THE TRIBUNE'S WANT AD SLOGAN.

M. R. E., a real estate dealer, had always been a firm believer in the cryptic Want Ad.

He actually believed that to give a prospect a clear idea of what he was offering would lessen the returns from his advertising!

Here is one of the Want Ads he was using:

FOR SALE—HAVE A FEW MORE CHOICE homesites in beautiful La Grange, on which I will build a home to suit you. 2 1/2 miles from La Grange station and also car line; $2500 each. Call me. Answer card. Address B N 470, Tribune.

It was suggested to Mr. E. that he apply The Tribune's Want Ad slogan to see whether or not the returns would justify the slightly increased expenditure.

He decided to give it a trial. This Want Ad was inserted:

HOMESITES

La Grange is a beautiful suburb for a home, and we will build a home to suit you with all modern conveniences on a large lot with plenty of room for the children to play. We have a generous selection of plans and designs from which you can choose to build your home. The size and number of rooms, including sun parlor and clothes closets, will be made just as you desire, convenient to churches, schools, theaters and shopping districts. 2 1/2 miles from La Grange station on C. & N. W. R. and near car line. A $500 down payment will start you, and a small payment each month until the lot is paid for; then with a payment of 10% down on the cost of the home we will build to your satisfaction, plans, specifications and expert designing free; at a low and send for particulars, which places you under no obligation. Address B N 107, Tribune.

This type of Want Ad, giving in greater detail the features of his offer, brought Mr. E. not only more prospects but a better class of prospects—people who were really interested in his offer and who knew what they wanted, recognized it when they saw it, and had the means to buy. Mr. E. is now convinced of the logic of The Tribune's slogan and will continue to make use of it. Remember! It next time you use a Tribune Want Ad!

GRAINS ERRATIC, BUT PRICES HOLD FIRM AT CLOSE

By CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain markets showed a rather heavy undertone a good part of the day, but those who sold on the break regretted it later. Prices fluctuated in a most erratic manner, with long grain coming out freely on the bulge, while on the break there was good support. Wheat closed  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher on support. May and July lower, but corn was  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher, and oats  $\frac{1}{4}$  lower, and soybeans  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher, and rye  $\frac{1}{4}$  lower.

Liverpool closed  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher and led to early buying which put May up to  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher, or  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher on the previous close. July sold up to  $\frac{1}{4}$  higher, but both deliveries weakened later and at the inside figure were off  $\frac{1}{4}$  from the high.

Under  $\frac{1}{4}$  for May toward the last there was an excellent case of buying, part of which was attributed to removing hedges against a big foreign order, the source of which was not disclosed, but was believed to have been Portugal.

Corn and Oats Rally.
Corn and oats fluctuated in the erratic manner that characterized wheat with the finish on a good rally from the low point. May corn advanced to  $\frac{1}{4}$  early on short covering, only to drop to  $\frac{1}{4}$  later on general selling and realizing, and closed at  $\frac{1}{4}$ .

Persistent selling of rye by the northwest had a depressing effect on futures. Exporters were fair buyers and 10,000 bu sold at 10 over May, track Baltimore.

Lard Reaches New High.
Lard sold at a new high for the season as the result of a further advance in hog and prospects of a good export business. European takings of lard having been small. Closing trades were at gains of  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. Ribs gained  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. Cash trade was quiet. Prices follow:

NEWS OF THE DAY THROUGH THE EYE OF THE CAMERA

HIS LAST DECISION. Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis yesterday put in his last day on the federal bench, where he has faithfully served for seventeen years. His last case was that of Jacob Paley and Andrew Grossman, theater owners, charged with non-payment of amusement taxes. The photograph was taken as the famous jurist stood to fine Grossman $5,000 and Paley 1 cent. At the judge's left is his bailiff, J. T. Birkner. Behind him is the chair in which he sat when he assessed the $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil company. (Tribune Photo.)

"GOOD-BY FOLKS, I'M THROUGH." Friends of Judge Landis packed his courtroom yesterday to bid him God-speed. A tear rolled down his cheek as he looked over the newspaper men who have reported his decisions for many years. "Boys," he said, "I sure will miss you." Scores crowded around him to shake his hands. Photographers snapped their cameras as he gave a hearty grip to Mrs. Lemar H. Mason. Then he went to his chambers, cleaned out his desk, put on his hat and coat, and walked out, followed by the cheers of hundreds of his admirers gathered in the corridors and on the federal building steps. Today he is Mr. Landis, arbiter of baseball affairs.

FIRST WOMAN county commissioner, Mrs. E. W. Bema, was elected yesterday and was immediately sworn into office by County Clerk Switzer. (Tribune Photo.)

STEALS MARCH ON "DAD." Arthur Laatz, who has won Miss Myrtle Kunzendorf, the desk sergeant his father, police chief of River Forest, hoped to keep for ten years.

GIRL POLICE SERGEANT TO WED. In wartime Police Chief Laatz of River Forest engaged a girl desk sergeant. She got married. Then he hired Miss Myrtle Kunzendorf (above). "She never looks at a man," said the happy chief. She told him yesterday she was going to quit. "To marry your son, Arthur," she said. (Tribune Photo.)

FELL AT THE HIGH HURDLE. The photo was taken at the Surrey chase at Gatwick, England. It shows a field of three clearing the worst jump, with Square Cut apparently pitching on his nose and his jockey, too. But the rider, Capt. Bennet, made a wonderful recovery a second after the camera snapped, and with scarcely the loss of a stride Square Cut was off after the others and finished second. (Wide World photo.)

FAREWELL, FRYING PAN. For years the Salvation Army has given these utensils to poor families. Now they find that 50 per cent of all illness is due to poorly prepared foods and that much poor food is due to the frying pan. So, say Brig. Annie Cowden (left) and Lieut. Clara Edwards, good-bye pans. Instead they'll teach how to prepare foods correctly.

WON'T STOP FIGHTING. Eamon de Valera is still at it in Ireland. He is seen on a platform in Dublin, delivering his fervent appeal against the ratification of the treaty with Great Britain and driving home his demand for an Irish republic fashioned according to his ideas. (Wide World Photo.)

QUITS LOVE FIGHT. Mrs. Rose Hartig shot her husband several years ago in an effort to keep him home. She failed, and yesterday won a divorce.

HE WANTS A CHANCE. "I want a job and a chance to make good," says P. H. Fushon, 31 years old, who has spent fifty-five years in prison. He gets out of the house of correction March 13.

MAKING THE YOUNG IDEA MUSICAL. In many kindergartens and primary grades in Chicago schools the children are organized into orchestras, with such instruments as cymbals, drums, triangles, tambourines, xylophones, etc. Then they are taught rhythm and to obey the instructions of the leader, who, in this case, is Rose Gattone, standing on the desk at the left. This toy "symphony orchestra" is in the Haines school. Most of the children are of Italian parentage and, therefore, take to music as the duck takes to water. (Tribune Photo.)

New York, March 1.—[Spe
The "sinister shadow" of ing symptoms of hankering for office, is creeping athwart the p situation in New York, creating

For the first time in many complete harmony appears to in the Republican party in this with Senator Calder and Gov.
elated for renomination without allion up to date.

Far different is the situation
Democratic party. With its l pronouncing the approaching of a golden opportunity for victor seeking to capitalize such disc with economic conditions as mar tself in condemnation of the p power, the Jeffersonian party fir self shot through with disses chiefly pertaining to the ambitio influence of Mr. Hearst.

Shows Usual Early Symptom
That Mr. Hearst is a potential date for some office—possibly a nor, but more probably United S senator—is taken for granted. A customary manifestations of his political ambition are appea
Mayor Hylan of New York City

Then there is a new political op
ation formed by Hearst followers Political Union for Progress in ernment—which is becoming voca state in petitions and resolutions ing on Mr. Hearst to sacrifice him to the public weal and start the siding; by accepting leadership of party in the campaign this year.

A lot of money is being expen on the upkeep and extension of union, which was organized by J
Watson of the Hearst staff and W
Supply Commissioner Laurence O'Reilly and which is endeavoring enlist the support of such up Democratic leaders as Ex-Gov. Ma
O'Donnell, Jacob Gerling of Roche and "Finky" Connors of Buffalo.

A Lively Political Corpses.
In the Hearst Union, which is inherent of his Independence lea the editor has an organization which to crystallize the demand h expected to make eventually fo place on the Democratic ticket, organization which might launch independent ticket and prove the doing of the Democrats if they refuse to honor the demand.

Mr. Hearst has been defeated often as a candidate for office that all the rules of the game he ough be politically dead. Far from it, is the liveliest political corpse in graveyard. Taking to himself a credit for the election of Mayor Hy in 1917 and the reelection of Ma
Hylan in 1921 by the record break majority of 420,000, Mr. Hearst na ally refuses to stay dead.

Powerful Ally in Murphy.
For the resurrection of Mr. Hea after his several interments, such c ervative fellow Jeffersonians as Judge Seabury and the New Y World hold Boss Murphy of Tam small responsible and they are c planning bitterly thereof. They a that Hylan was put in office and being kept in office not so much Hearst as by Murphy. They port Hylan as the creature of a polit partnership between Murphy and editor who once delighted to expose down as the embodiment of all thi sinister and evil and they pillory M phy for "selling out the party Hearst."

All of which testimony demonst that so long as Hearst and Murp hang together Hearst is a formid figure in the Democratic party in state. The partnership which the c ervative Democrats denounce so f vently is a solid basis. Murphy su ports Hearst's friend Hylan. Hear Hylan dispenses the patronage lavishly to Murphy, most of the T many district leaders being on the c pay roll.
